Farmer's Market

Like you, everyone is tired of winter by now and just waiting for spring! As well as the Two Rivers Farmer's Market vendors. The market will be open the first Saturday of May. Hopefully the weather will cooperate soon so our gardens will leap into action.

Asparagus, radishes and onions will probably be the first veggies to arrive followed, next by rhubarb, lettuce and peas. Then the summer season is up and growing strong. But already on opening day there will be seeds, beddings plants and both annuals and perennials in larger pots. Crafters too have been busy all winter restocking their offerings. Check on them early for the best choices.

Get Involved with Main Street

Two Rivers Main Street is a volunteer-driven organization-we are nothing without you! Volunteers help us to make Two Rivers a great place to live, work and play.
